Salvation Army's Playground Opened in Downtown Area

Shown above is a view of the Salvation Army playground at 141 North Prospect street, which was opened yesterday afternoon with an informal ceremony attended by members of the Kiwanis club, through whose generous cooperation the project was made possible. Army officers, members of the Salvation Army advisory board and friends.

Kiwanis Club, Co-Sponsor of Project, Takes Part in Informal Dedication.

Yesterday marked a red letter day for the Marion Salvation Army Corps and also for scores of children in Marion's business district when the gate swung open at the Army's playground at the rear of the citadel at 141 North Prospect street.

On hand to greet the children and take part in the informal dedication ceremony were members of the Marion Kiwanis club who have helped to make the playground possible, the Army's advisory board, Army officers and others interested in the project.

More than 75 children visited the playgrounds throughout the afternoon and thoroughly enjoyed the swings, basketball court, shuffleboard and other equipment. A hamburger fry planned for the evening by the Home League, their families and the children was canceled on account of rain.

A. T. Allen, chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board, presided for the informal ceremony and presented E. L. Cleveland, president of the Kiwanis club, who expressed the pleasure of the club in being able to participate in such a worthy project. On behalf of the club and those who helped in setting up the project Mr. Cleveland presented the playground to the Army. The acceptance was by Lt. Betty William, representing the Salvation Army.

Surprise Gift

An off-the-program item which came as a delightful surprise to the children yesterday afternoon was the gift of many cakes, fruit, sandwiches and cookies from members of the 4-H Clubs of the county who were having a picnic at the Marion County fairgrounds.

Weeks and months of planning and hard work went into the playground on the part of the sponsors and others interested in supplying the longfelt need of just such a recreational spot.

Enclosed with a substantial fence and well-surfaced, the playground is equipped with swings, teetertotters, iron bars, basketball, volleyball and badminton courts, hopscotch and shuffleboard, to provide entertainment for the children.

It also is planned to install slides which are now on order. The grounds are lighted, making possible evening activities, a drinking fountain has been provided and there are restrooms for both boys and girls. In a far corner of the grounds is an oven.

Showers Planned

The playground equipment will be added to as finances and time permit and tentative plans include installation of showers in the basement for both the boys and girls. The basement has been arranged to provide space for storage of equipment.

The playground equipment is the gift of the Kiwanis club, whose members derive some of the funds from the gum ball machines installed in business places and offices in the city. The project was presented to the club members early this year by Cutler McGrew, a member of the advisory board's finance committee and also a Kiwanian.

"We are grateful to everyone who helped in the project," Captain Mary Davis said today. "Without the help of our friends we would not have been able to carry out our plans either financially or physically." Captain Davis spoke for Adjutant Mary Nisiewicz, who is attending the first Brengle Memorial institute in Chicago, and the Salvation Army.

Schedule of Hours

The playground is open to the public from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, throughout the week with the exception of Sunday and Monday, and from 1 to 5 p. m. each day except Sunday. The evenings are reserved for activities of the Salvation Army. Monday evenings are for Boy Scouts, Tuesday, Torchbearers and Crusaders, Wednesday, Cubs and Thursday for the Home League, their families and the corps cadets.

Play at all times is under supervision of Lieutenant Williman, assisted by volunteer workers.

In Charge of Project

The playground was set up and financed through Cecil Gabler, chairman of the youth committee of the advisory board, A. T. Allen, chairman, assisted by the board members, the Kiwanis club, Mr. McGrew, Newman Browarsky of the Marion Metal & Iron Works, the Huber Manufacturing Co., the Baker Wood Preserving Co., J. M. Hamilton & Sons, owners of the grounds and building, the city fire department and many individuals who contributed in many ways with time and money.

ATTLEE'S PLAN WINS APPROVAL

Socialist Dominated Commons Backs "Work More, Eat Less" Program.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Aug. 8—Britain's Socialist-dominated house of commons approved today the government's sweeping "crisis powers" bill, described by Winston Churchill as "a blank check for totalitarian government."

The house gave the bill a second reading—approving it in principle—without a record vote. The government hoped to push the measure through all remaining parliamentary stages before the commons' scheduled adjournment next Wednesday.

An amendment to reject the measure was defeated 231 to 148.

The Socialist government says the bill is necessary for effective dealing with the British economic crisis. It would empower the government to tell men and women where they must work and to take over the management of firms considered to be operating inefficiently.

Churchill Cites Danger

Launching an all-out conservative attack on Prime Minister Attlee's spartan plans for meeting the economic squeeze, Churchill declared:

"The government's proposals will mean the abrogation of parliament and of all our long cherished rights."

Government-requested legislation to implement the Attlee program would extend and strengthen government powers, dating from wartime, to direct labor into "necessary" industry and intervene in "inefficient" industries. The program itself was aimed at

PROSECUTOR'S WIFE KILLS FATHER-IN-LAW

By The Associated Press

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 8—Prosecutor Sidney S. McMath said today his pretty 26-year-old blond wife killed his father, Hal P. McMath, 56, at their swank suburban home early last night while "hysterical with fright."

McMath declared he was requesting Circuit Judge Clyde E. Brown to call a special meeting of the grand jury to investigate and also was requesting appointment of a special prosecutor to present the case.

McMath, who spearheaded an ex-servicemen's ticket which unseated a powerful Hot Springs political organization last year, said the circuit judge had indicated he would comply.

Haggard, unshaven and attired in rumpled shirt and trousers McMath handed reporters a prepared statement covering the investigation of the shooting. The shooting first was reported by the young prosecutor's wife, at exactly 7 p. m. (CST) and McMath's statement was the first official pronouncement covering the affair.

McMath's account:

"This is a tragic occurrence. I grieve for my father, my mother, my children and my wife.

"My father has been running my farm, coming to the farm in the morning and returning to his home in Hot Springs in the evening. For years he has been an excessively heavy drinker. When he drank, like many men, he underwent a change in character. Lately he has been drinking more and more. Drinking caused him to become irrational, abusive and violent.

"Monday when I was in court in Mt. Ida my wife, Anne, had to call the sheriff's office after he (the elder McMath) had maltreated and badly bruised her.

"Yesterday he started drinking again after I had left town. He returned to our home in my ab-

BREAK COMES IN HEAT WAVE

Fair and Cooler Again Promised for Tonight in Marion Area.

Another night of comfortable sleeping temperature may be in store for Marionites tonight, but the prediction of cooling rain has been postponed until Saturday, the official weatherman says. Last night's .16 of an inch rainfall gave relief for the first time this week, causing a low of 67 degrees during the night, which was a drop of three points from the preceding night's low.

The number of deaths caused either directly or indirectly by the heat reached a total of 112 over the nation with five more being reported in Ohio.

The cooling winds reduced the temperature in the midwest, but the south still suffered in excessive heat and humidity. Fair weather and cooler tonight, with increasing cloudiness tomorrow and not much change in temperature, is the prediction for the next 24 hours in Marion and vicinity.

The thermometer in Marion at noon today read 79 degrees, a two-point drop from yesterday's 81. Highest reading here yesterday was 89, one point below the previous 90.

Moderately Warm, Less Humid, Ohio Forecast

By The Associated Press

The weatherman, bless his heart, said Ohio would be "moderately warm and less humid" today.

Since there has been nothing moderate about the current weather, presumably he meant it would be somewhat cooler.

Predictions of rain was narrowed to include only northern Ohio and postponed until Saturday. And, the weatherman insisted it would be warmer then in south portions along with increasing cloudiness.

Some of the intensity left the heat wave yesterday, but not until five more Ohioans lost their lives.

Albert Burkhart, 77-year-old Kalida former, died in a cornfield, hoe in hand, of heat. Vincent Seta, 51-year-old tailor, was found dead on the floor of his home at Cincinnati, apparently a heat victim. Carl Weagley, 49, manager of the Andy-You cafe in Toledo, was overcome by heat and died of a heart attack. James C. Ziegler Jr., 19, also of Toledo, drowned when a rowboat capsized in Lake Erie. Thirteen-year-old Betty Brown of Hamilton died during a swimming lesson, swept under the swift current of Four Mile creek at nearby New Miami.

Temperatures recorded yesterday were: Columbus 89, Dayton 86, Cincinnati 86, Cleveland 94, Springfield 86, Toledo 91.

Auto of Maryland Couple Is Hit by Train.

Rev. John J. Strahle, 60, of Takoma Park, Md., and his wife, Catherine, 54, were injured in an auto-train accident in Edison yesterday at 4:10 p. m., the state highway patrol reported.

The accident occurred when Rev. Strahle drove his car onto the New York Central tracks and it was hit by a train which was backing up slowly, patrolmen said. Rev. Strahle suffered head and chest injuries and his wife suffered bruises of the arms. Both were taken to Dr. Ingmeyer's office in Mt. Gilead by Boyd ambulance of Mt. Gilead. Their injuries were not serious and they were released from the doctor's office and taken in the Boyd ambulance to Mt. Vernon, their destination, to recuperate at a friend's home.

The Strahle car, a 1942 Chrysler sedan, was demolished and the rear step of the caboose of the train was damaged, H. A. Wise of Galion was conductor on the train.

The accident was investigated by the state patrol and the Morrow county sheriff.

President Signs Bill Lifting Buying Controls

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—President Truman today signed legislation killing all controls on installment buying Nov. 1, 1947.

The President said he regretted congress did not follow the recommendation of the federal reserve board and of the council of economic advisers "by enacting legislation to provide for continuing as long as necessary regulation of consumer credit as a means of helping to promote economic stability."

Mr. Truman had asked for specific peacetime authority to regulate the American institution known as the "easy payment plan," as a bulwark against inflationary tendencies.

But congress, instead, sent him a bill intended to force an end to the credit curbs in three months.

Seizes Hughes' Papers After Bitter Exchange

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) capped a bitter verbal exchange with Howard Hughes today by issuing a subpoena for private documents and papers Hughes has in a downtown hotel.

Ferguson's action, as chairman of the senate war investigating sub-committee, came after Hughes had refused to produce John Meyer, his publicity man, and had said he would make available from his papers only those cleared by his attorneys.

A subpoena also was issued for Meyer.

Shouting that "we're not going to argue with you," Ferguson instructed committee aides to issue a subpoena to seize Hughes' papers, supposed to be in custody of one of the Hollywood millionaire's auditors in a downtown hotel room.

Noah Dietrich, who heads Hughes' tool company, told the committee that, although he had been served with a subpoena to produce the documents, he legally does not have possession of them because they comprise Hughes' personal papers.

"Do you have those papers?" Ferguson demanded of Hughes.

"I don't have them on my person, if that is what you mean," Hughes retorted, as spectators roared with laughter.

Banging a glass ash tray on the committee table, Ferguson shouted: "Don't try to get smart with this committee."

Stormy Session

In one of the stormiest scenes of the inquiry into Hughes $40,000,000 wartime airplane contracts, Hughes today charged that Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) was trying to put him and Meyer on the stand at the same time to "grab publicity".

"Now just a minute Mr. Hughes," Ferguson shouted.

Hughes said he would not produce Meyer because Meyer twice had been brought before the committee.

Grimly, Ferguson asked Hughes to repeat that.

"I don't remember," Hughes said slowly. "Get it off the record."

Meyer, publicity man for Hughes, has testified to spending $164,000 in promotion of Hughes' ventures, including airplane contracts. His detailed list of expenditures included many items of entertainment for Army officers, government officials and others.

The Ferguson, Hughes exchange went on:

Ferguson: Now Mr. Hughes what is your answer.

Hughes: I just told you that I don't remember.

Ferguson: Then I'll ask you again. Will you bring Mr. Meyer in to the two o'clock hearing? (1 p. m. EST).

Hughes: No. I don't think I will.

Ferguson: Will you try to bring him in.

Hughes: No I don't think I will.

The big crowded committee room was silent for a full minute as Ferguson and Hughes glared at each other.

Calls for Subpoena

Then the chairman asked committee counsel to draw up a subpoena for Meyer immediately.

Ferguson signed the papers and announced:

"I just signed a subpoena for Meyer-forthwith."

Handing the paper to committee attorneys, Ferguson said to tell the United States marshal "that we mean business on this subpoena."

Earlier, the senate investigators found an expense account item by Meyer's predecessor as Hughes' publicist which listed entertainment for Jesse Jones—and immediately got an affidavit that Jones was not entertained.

Noah Dietrich, executive of Hughes' Tool company, produced the affidavit after he said he had questioned five years ago an expense account of Russell Birdwell, Hollywood publicist.

This account had listed Jesse Jones, then head of the Reconstruction Finance Corp., as one of those Birdwell claimed to have entertained in the period from June 17 to July 16, 1942, Dietrich said.

Previously Hughes had testified under questioning by Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich), that he told Birdwell to publicize the D-2, a plywood medium bomber which formed the basis for the F-11 photographic plane on which Hughes later obtained a government contract . . .

Dietrich said that Birdwell's affidavit that the listing of Jones' name as a recipient of hospitality was incorrect was made within the last 10 days.

Got $22,000,000 Contract

Hughes eventually got a $22,000,000 contract for F-11 photo-reconnaissance planes after one was recommended by Elliott Roosevelt, then an army air forces colonel.

The senate war investigating subcommittee, headed by Ferguson, is inquiring into the circumstances of award of this contract and of an $18,000,000 one for a "flying boat."

With Hughes on the witness stand the committee turned to the

ALL DEAD IN SPEEDING CAR

Machine Hits One Bus, Then Hurtles 175 Feet Into Front of Another.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Aug. 8—Three young men were killed and 24 persons were injured, three seriously, when a passenger automobile sideswiped one bus and then piled head-on into another early today on state route 125 in suburban Mount Washington.

The dead—identified by Police Dispatcher Roy Bell as Kenneth Jordan, 22, Williamsburg, O.; Norman Davis, 21, also Williamsburg, and Sidney E. Brown, 22, of Windham, O.—were riding in the passenger car.

Seriously injured, according to hospital reports, were Charles Rennecker, 37, of Mt. Washington, compound fracture of the right leg and other injuries.

Miss Mae Schwarberg of Georgetown, O., a nurse at St. Francis hospital, possible fracture of the nose, cuts, bruises and shock;

Mrs. Flossie Smith, 52, of Cincinati, possible jaw fracture, contused mouth and chin cut.

Car on Wrong Side

Dispatcher Bell said persons in the accident reported that the automobile approached the buses from the wrong side of the road at terrific speed, sideswiped the first one and hurtled 175 feet into the second coach.

So great was the impact that about half of the seats of second bus, operated by Greyhound Lines, were ripped from their moorings.

The coach did not overturn but was so badly jammed in the front it was necessary to remove all the injured through an emergency door.

All the injured were riding in the second bus, according to Bell.

The first bus was operated by the King Brothers Line.

Ambulances, police cars, a patrol wagon and motorists speeded the injured to the hospitals.

George Dahlheimer, 25, Bethel, O., and his wife, Ruth, an expectant mother, joined other passengers in a relief bus after the accident but left it at Eight Mile road. Mrs. Dahlheimer, suffering from shock and bruises, and her husband, with nose lacerations, were treated by a Williamsville, O., physician.

Jordan Driving Car

Jordan was driving the automobile, a 1941 sedan, county police reported. It struck the second bus with such force that it was telescoped as far back as the front seats.

Jordan was a furnace mechanic and unmarried. Davis, also unmarried, was employed as a clerk at the A. C. Jordan general store at Williamsburg.

Brown, the third young man killed in the accident, was a clerk at Clancy's furniture and appliance store in Williamsburg who was shot down over the Ploesti oil refineries in Romania while on his forty-sixth mission with the army air forces. After being held a captive for two months he was freed.

Leroy Schwartz, of Portsmouth, driver of the telescoped Greyhound bus, escaped unhurt, Bell said. He added that Rennacker had been sitting alongside Schwartz when the auto hurtled into the coach.

Both buses, Bell reported, were enroute to Portsmouth, O., and had just left the Cincinnati bus terminal a few minutes before the accident.

Bell quoted both Clendening and Schwartz with saying that they saw the automobile lights coming down the "wrong side" of the road and attempted to pull off the pavement to avoid the crash.

Blocked by Embankment

Schwartz told police that he could not clear the roadway because his bus was alongside an embankment, Bell said.

Police reported that the auto hurtled 175 feet into the Greyhound bus after careening off the sideswiped King Brothers coach. Nobody in the leading bus was injured, Bell said.

The dispatcher said that only one other Greyhound passenger, whom he identified as Flossie Smith, 52, of Cincinnati, received injury more serious than cuts from flying glass. He said the woman received a possible jaw fracture.

Those Bell said were cut only

ODOM FLYING ON FROM CAIRO

Heads for Karachi, India, After Covering Third of Distance.

By The Associated Press

CAIRO, Aug. 8—Pilot William P. Odom, a third of the way along on his effort to set a new solo record around the world, left Cairo today at 6:39 p. m. (11:39 a. m., eastern standard time) for Karachi, India.

The flier left Paris at 11:39 a. m., Cairo time (4:39 a. m., eastern standard time) after a stop of 91 minutes to take on 2,000 gallons of gasoline. He got 1,200 gallons of gasoline in an hour's stopover last night at Gander, his first landing after leaving Chicago at 12:53 p. m., eastern standard time yesterday.

His flying time to Cairo was 19 hours 20 minutes. The trip here covered about 6,500 miles of the 19,600-mile route he charted around the world. He flew around the world last April in 78 hours 55½ minutes—but not alone. Milton Reynolds, Chicago manufacturer, and T. Carroll Salee, accompanied him then in the same plane.

Odom averaged about 315 miles an hour on his flight from Paris, where he set down earlier today after an overseas hop from Gander, Newfoundland. Tail winds were expected to help him on the next leg, to Karachi, India.

Seen Over Pisa

Odom's plane passed over Pisa, Italy, at 1:35 p. m. (6:35 a. m., eastern standard time), U. S. army airmen reported.

Odom was offered toasted turkey sandwiches to eat on the stop at Paris Orly field but ate only a chunk of the turkey from one sandwich, with some tea, leaving the toast.

He said his average across the

20 ON NAVY PLANE HUNTED IN ALASKA

By The Associated Press

KODIAK, ALASKA, Aug. 8—Wind-whipped waters along the Alaska peninsula and the adjacent Aleutians today were the center of a second day's air and sea search for a missing Navy PBY-T-A with 20 men aboard.

Seventeenth naval district headquarters said the Kodiak-based plane, with 15 passengers and a crew of five, last reported by radio at 10:45 a. m. Wednesday. It said it was 180 miles from its Dutch Harbor destination, with enough gasoline for six hours flying. It had started the 600-mile flight at 6:26 a. m.

Searchers held the hope the plane might have made a safe landing in sheltered waters along the route, with its radio damaged.

But the Navy yesterday notified next of kin of Navy personnel that they were missing. Names were being withheld, it was reported, until all Army personnel who were notified

Nash Raises Price On All New Models

DETROIT, Aug. 8 — Price increases on Nash automobiles ranging from $95 to $168.40 have been announced by Nash-Kelvinator Corp., President George W. Mason.

The boosts which went into effect at midnight Thursday, followed increases in recent days by General Motors Corp., Packard Motor Car Co., and Kaiser-Frazer Corp.

Mason said his firm found it "utterly impossible to continue to absorb rising costs of materials and labor which go into finished automobiles without raising prices."

He said Nash was hiking the cost of its low price "600" line of cars for the first time since OPA controls were removed last year.

Ohioan Who Escaped Commies Reaches Paris

CHILD'S BODY FOUND AS PARENTS WATCH

By The Associated Press

FALMOUTH, Mass., Aug. 8—The body of Nancy Perini, 4, niece of Lou Perini, millionaire contractor and part owner of the Boston Braves baseball club, missing since yesterday, was recovered today from the ocean in full view of her parents, watching dragging operations from the family porch.

The body was recovered while District Attorney Frank E. Smith's investigators were proceeding on the theory she had been kidnaped. Police said there appeared to be no doubt the drowning was purely accidental.

The body was hooked by firemen who began dragging operations at 3 a. m. under floodlights.

At is was pulled ashore, Mrs. Perini cried, "Oh, my baby," and collapsed in the arms of her husband, Charles, a Braves stockholder and associate of his brother, Lou, in the contracting business.

The tot's tiny form was hooked about 20 feet from shore at a spot that has a seven foot drop on Megansett beach, directly in front of the Perini summer estate.

Police said the little girl apparently wandered alone from the yard of her home to the beach and waded to death while the resort was deserted. She was wearing a tiny bathing cap.

DIVORCEE AND BOY, 16, TO BE RETURNED TO OHIO

Young Mother Says She'll Marry Dayton Youth.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 8—A 24-year-old divorced mother and the high school boy she came to Detroit to marry were ready today to be returned to Ohio—their project a failure.

But red-haired Mrs. Dolly Cox, who has waived extradition to Ohio where she is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor, insisted she was determined to become the wife of 16-year-old Louis Kotonis "even if I have to wait until he's 21."

"He's my man," Dolly said at the women's police division lock-up where she was taken after being arrested with Louis late Wednesday at the home of her relatives. "I love him and I am going to have him, one way or another."

The youth, who told police he met Mrs. Cox in Dayton, still was hoping to go to Tennessee or Kentucky with her where they "wouldn't have any trouble getting married."

Louis was held in juvenile detention home with no charge placed against him. The pair's return to Dayton will be delayed until a court waiver is signed today.

contracts after a truce agreement was reached in the controversy between Hughes and Senator Brewster (R-Maine) over origin, motives and past events in the inquiry.

Before the question of entertainment for Jones was raised, the committee had produced from the White House files a telegram from Birdwell to Stephen Early, then a White House secretary, asking for an appointment with Early to discuss Hughes' plane.

Dietrich identified a $2,040.65 bill Birdwell had submitted to cover expenses on his trip.

"I questioned the item concerning Mr. Jones," the witness said, "and called him up. Mr. Jones said he was not present at any entertainment given by Mr. Birdwell."

"Then," said Ferguson, "in your opinion Birdwell had padded his expense account?"

"Definitely," Dietrich replied.

He said the expense item already had been paid at the time it came to his attention.

He testified that Birdwell had made the affidavit that the account was incorrect in listing the name of Jones because he had put down the name of everyone he contacted in Washington and had entertained only a few of them.

Ferguson directed Hughes to take the stand and announced there would be questions first "about the flying boat."

Clark To Investigate Blackmail Charges

By International News Service

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Sen. Brewster (R) Me., said today that Attorney General Clark has promised to investigate the "blackmail" charges hurled by Howard Hughes at the senator.

Brewster, who invited a justice department inquiry two weeks ago, said Clark had informed him the charges would receive "attention" as soon as the senate inquiry into Hughes' war plane contracts ends.

The Maine senator, head of the committee probing the 40 million dollars in contracts obtained by Hughes, was accused by the millionaire airman of offering to quash the investigation if Hughes would merge his Trans-World Airline with Pan-American Airways.

Brewster repeatedly has denied the charge, but Hughes called the senator's sworn denial a "pack of lies" and declared he could "tear it to pieces" if given cross-examination privileges at the senate hearing.

In announcing Clark's promise to investigate, Brewster told reporters that he was satisfied with the decision to eliminate his personal feud with Hughes from the war contract investigation.

But he added that he does not feel that the decision strips him of the right to go into the matter on a personal basis.

cutting down imports and boosting production for export.

Speaking just before Churchill took the floor, Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison declared:

"We are not going to be cross-examined in advance as to exactly what we will do with the powers when we get them."

Churchill maintained that the labor and industry controls asked by the government would destroy British freedom and way of living in time of peace."

He said the Socialist ministers would be "the absolute masters" of the country while parliament was in recess. It is scheduled to adjourn for the summer next week.

Says It's Unnecessary

"Is this necessary to the life of the country?" he asked "It would mean a state of alarm and discouragement and paralysis."

Churchill declared that Attlee's speech Wednesday—in which the prime minister outlined his work more, eat less program for Britain—was "universally judged to be inadequate."

Carrying on in a sharp personal attack on the prime minister, Churchill inquired:

"Who is going to wield these powers? Not merely the prime minister, who seems increasingly an amused passenger in the pleasure boat."

He declared that the government's ministers were men who were prepared always to put the party before the nation.

In his speech, Attlee had called "for "Dunkerque spirit" to overcome a threatened dollar famine born of fast spending and under production.

"You talk of Dunkerque spirit," Churchill said. "What would Dunkerque have been if the little boats were only going to take off members of the trade unions and it was said that we didn't care a tinker's cuss for the rest?"

"The minister who made those expressions," Churchill said, "still remains a member of the government in spite of his failures, and he is retained in his position by the play of outside forces."

Union Declines Plan Accepted by Lewis

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Aug. 8—Union officers of 7,000 Murray Corp. of America employes, whose 18-day strike has idled 65,000 other auto workers, said today they had refused a "modification" of the formula accepted by John L. Lewis from the coal industry for immunity from financial lability under the Taft-Hartley law.

Emil Mazey, CIO United Auto Workers regional director, said union negotiators had turned down the proposal because it had "other strings attached."

He reported after yesterday's session with company representatives that "we seem to be a little closer to settlement."

Besides the 55,000 Ford Motor Co. workers and 10,000 Studebaker Corp. employes idled because of a lack of parts from Murray, a supplier firm, about 7,000 Detroit workers were off their jobs yesterday because of absenteeism attributed by management to "the heat."

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Rennel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. You don't have to starve yourself; eat sensibly per instructions on bottle. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

Germ-Fighting Drug

STREPTOMYCIN is the newest addition to the modern family of germ-fighting wonder drugs. There is still much to be learned about this new weapon against disease, but it has now been in use long enough for us to know that it is going to be of real value in many conditions.

The best thing about it is that it will attack germs which successfully resist both penicillin and the sulfonamide drugs. According to Dr. Sam L. Raines of Memphis, Tennessee, it is particularly effective against germs that cause infections of the urinary tract.

Dr. Raines treated 52 patients with such urinary tract infections, produced by several germs, but particularly by a certain type of streptococcus When the patients were given three million units of streptomycin daily for three days, in practically all cases, the germs disappeared from the urinary tract. However, after about two weeks, many of the germs were again found, which indicates that reinfection of the urinary tract occurred.

A number of spectacular results were obtained with the streptomycin blood stream infections or "blood poisoning" caused by such germs as Friedlander's bacillus and bacillus proteus

Dr Raines also studied a small number of cases of tuberculosis but he found that these patients did not respond to the streptomycin, although others have found that it is helpful in certain cases

When streptomycin is used, it is important that a sufficient dose be employed and that it be given continually until the germs producing the infection are eliminated Otherwise the germs may become streptomycin fast, that is, they become more resistant to the preparation, and then cure becomes extremely difficult.

Another use of streptomycin is as a preventive against infection when the bladder is examined through a cystoscope.

In cases of stone in the kidney, ureter or bladder, where infection has been present long enough to make surgery dangerous, the giving of streptomycin may cause enough improvement that the operation can be performed with safety.

Thus, streptomycin has been found to be a valuable preparation in urinary tract infections which are not overcome by penicillin or the sulfonamide drugs.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. W.: How long does it take for the swelling to leave after a cast has been removed?

Answer. Swelling should disappear within a week or two; however, it may persist because of some disturbance of the circulation.

Attlee Offers Good Argument For American Economic System

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

That was a most convincing speech which Socialist Prime Minister Attlee made in the house of commons in dealing with England's economic crisis—convincing from the viewpoint that the political-economic system of this America of ours, the system that Britain forsook for Socialism, is the best of them all.

DewittMackenzie

Mr. Attlee's explanations of the collapse, and the drastic remedies which he proposes, shows clearly that country's first all-out Socialist experiment has in the short period of two years arrived at the point of considerable government regimentation of the individual. In short, the royal road to Utopia has made a sharp turn toward a regime which certainly partakes—perhaps only temporarily—of totalitarianism.

Right here it should be said in fairness that the government has been saddled with many burdens inherited from the war. Of course former Prime Minister Winston Churchill says there will be no recovery from the country's present misfortune until "the guilty men, whose crazy theories and personal incompetence have brought us down, have been driven from power by the votes of the nation." However, he is leader of the Conservative opposition to the Attlee regime. Thrusting politics aside we note that Mr. Attlee made these striking omissions:

"I would agree that it might have been better if we had had a greater concentration of effort. Maybe we have tried to do too much in a short time.

"It may well be that we have relaxed controls too soon. There has been a failure on the part of some workers to realize that shorter hours and higher wages must be matched by greater effort."

And so because of this lack of realization, the prime minister said his government would have to take some measure of control over the employment of labor in order to stimulate production. He added:

"This will involve some sacrifice of individual liberty, though as little as possible. It may be necessary to take steps to limit employment on less essential work."

The government will take action against industries operated with "inefficiency or lack of will."

Employes in the more essential industries will have to work longer, and coal miners will be asked to work half an hour a day additional.

Attlee appealed to workers not to press for increases of wages. He asked industry and commerce to refrain from declaring high dividends.

England's imports are to be cut down in a manner that will mean "hardships for many people." Among other things there will be further food restrictions.

The armed strength is to be reduced by 420,000 men from the present total of about 1,284,000. America will be asked to ease clauses in the loan agreement. In his great political experiment he feels impelled to resort to regimentation, thereby most surely creating an issue upon which the next general election will be fought. That issue is: Will the British public stand for peace time regimentation?

FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1947

It's Embarrassing

HOWARD Hughes is having more luck in turning the tables on his investigators than it's comfortable to think about.

The fact of the matter is that the senate search for funny business in the Hughes plane contract has turned into a political rat race and girl show combined, with a big after-show if fancy knife work in the not-so-fledgling airplane business. If Hughes is turning the tables on his investigators by embarrassing them with counter-accusations, it's no more than they've already done to him by dragging the Roosevelt family's best-known cutup back into the spotlight he loves so well.

For the ordinary run of taxpayers, who are getting it in the neck both coming and going, the whole thing's embarrassing. They think there should be an investigation, but they feel like apologizing for the antics of the investigators. It's pretty plain that what the country needs is an official commission of some kind to conduct investigations on a level two or three points of honor higher than this one has been hitting. When witnesses begin to challenge the motives and the methods of their questioners, it's time for a change.

Questionable Tactics

THE demonstrators who moved in on Washington's Russian embassy and posted signs reading "Spies, Beware!" resorted to questionable tactics

The sign posters were described as members of the Christian Youth of America. Names tell nothing of the political aims or beliefs of organizations these days, so it isn't apparent from the names alone what the organization stands for, except that the action indicates it is anti-Communist.

Whatever its political leanings, its action suggests the lunatic fringe of the Right. Only the extremists of the Right and the Left (the Communists) make nuisances of themselves with mass picketing, libelous placards, vociferous boolngs and hissing and "spontaneous demonstrations." They make no friends for their causes with these tactics. And the Communists would be very happy if the Americans would forget they once picketed the White House with signs reading "The Yanks are not coming, Mr. Roosevelt."

Gen. Eaker Retires

ANOTHER of America's military leaders, Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, has retired after a long Army career culminating with a notable war record. The general has decided to grow apples and write his memoirs on an orchard farm near Medford, Ore.

A calm, rather unprepossessing man, Gen. Eaker was in the news as long ago as 1929 when he flew the "Question Mark" on a seven-day endurance flight. He was pioneer in night-flying experiments and made the first transcontinental flight flying blind. In the face of British admonitions that it couldn't be done, he took a dozen flying fortresses on their first daylight raid into Germany and brought them all back. He saw his air force grow large enough to put 1,000 bombers into the air and he devised the England-Ukraine shuttle-run for bombers.

Americans salute a brave, resourceful airman, knowing that when his orchards need spraying, it will be done with expert supervision from a low-flying plane.

Settling the Economy Argument

THE Republicans in congress didn't save as much money out of the Truman administration's budget as they said they'd save. Their economy program resulted in a net saving of something however, and whether the something was a little more than a billion or a lot more is only a quibble over the degree achieved.

The main fact is that the Republican majority in congress fought the Democratic occupant of the White House to a standstill on the economy issue and finally salvaged some substantial savings out of the executive budget. It may turn out by the end of the fiscal year next June 30 that actual spending was as much as President Truman said it would be—37½ billion. It may turn out that actual spending was even more than that, which would seem to prove to Democrats that the Republicans saved nothing at all.

But for present purposes of settling the economy argument, the presidential budget was pared down. It is smaller than it would have been if the Republican majority in congress hadn't existed. For Democrats to sneer that the Republicans failed because they pared less than they promised is for Democrats to call attention to the fact they wouldn't have pared anything at all. They would have added a few billions.

A recent U. S. federal report showed that one-fourth of the nation had diets which could be rated as good; more than a third rated only as fair, and about one-third as poor.

Milk is now being used in the making of plastics, textiles, pharmaceuticals, penicillin and explosives.

News Behind the News

Unreal Art Not Necessarily Communistic.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8 — The general belief prevails that unreal art is Communistic. It is in character and in form. But many anti-Communists perform in this unreal field. Chagall, the French abstractionist leader is a Catholic. Several leading American Catholic magazine editors consider Chagall a great artist and his field as a new, uplifting art venture. The prevalence of a long list of Jewish abstractionists has sponsored another erroneous supposition that the unrealistic art form is Jewish. It is not.

Unrealism in art is older than Communism. Turner's landscapes contained more mist than substance. The Communist Picasso became the best known adventurer in carrying unrealism to the extreme of setting down a few lines and colors and calling it art. Some unrealism had always existed in art — nebulous backgrounds, indistinguishable objects, bare suggestions. This quality is even older and more widely accepted in everyday living. From antiquity, people saw a man in the moon simply because they could not distinguish the surface valleys there. People have long logically seen cloud formations or certain portions of the earth's surface as suggesting a real form of some other substance (embattlements or sleeping Indians or such).

But it was the Communist Picasso who brought art unrealism to the extreme of imagining an indistinguishable or normally unidentifiable association of a few lines and color to be a real substance. The lines of the moon really resemble a face. But Picasso made lines which did not resemble an object and called this a picture of the object.

This is Communistic in character for two reasons: (A) the Communist revolution calculates destruction of all values in all fields, and the Communist revolution in art has destroyed the value of logical resemblance; (B) the method used is the same as the Communists practice in their unreal politics to destroy logical reasoning based on discernible and provable facts and figures, in favor of a wholly visionary conception. Thus they call political white black and vice versa and imagine it to be so. Thus they disassociate their politics from logical principles (guiding general facts) for attainment of an indistinguishable goal (try to hinder feeding Europe, for instance, to accomplish an undefined, purely negative revolution).

The precise quality of this art can be described although it seldom has been. Carry it logically two steps further than it has gone and you will see its character in its isolated pure essence. Imagine a bare canvas to be "meat balls" because I call it that. Then take away the canvas entirely and imagine nothing—absolutely nothing at all to be—"meat balls". This is the quality and character of that art.

Bare Canvas

A bare canvas bears some resemblance to a painting, because it is used for that purpose. Perhaps some people will be readily able to envision in the weave of the canvas the form of some meatballs. But if you take the canvas away and imagine nothing at all to be meatballs, you have isolated the quality, and character of non-objectivity in its real essence.

Museum directors, art dealers, artists and particularly rich collectors who are easy marks for unrealism in art, are criticizing anti-Communists and the state department for refusing to send a show containing a large portion of this peculiar product around the world as American art. They do not realize they are being rather stupid. Public money pays for transportation of American art shows to tell foreign nations of our culture. This art is not American culture. To send it abroad as such is a mis-representation of our culture. To do so when Communism is combatting us around the world with unreal politics is dangerous and plays into the culture of Communism. Public officials would be deficient in sense if they thought this art was American culture by any calculations and derelict in their duty if they tried to spend public money to send it abroad as such.

United in Peace
The Same As in War

The Army and Navy at last have merged.

The union was joined by an old-fashioned congress which believed in long engagements.

The need for the consolidation became apparent Dec. 7, 1941 when it was revealed the Army and Navy commanders at Pearl Harbor were each waiting for the other to call.

As expected, both parties resisted the merger until the very last moment, it being a military wedding in every sense of the word.

But it should be consolation to Mr. Truman, following his setback on the labor bill, to find one instance where he is recognized as best man.

West Point and Annapolis will retain their separate identities. This is good news to Philadelphia's football fans, who were wondering what they were going to have to do the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

All the problems of the merger have not been solved so readily. Since the new under-Secretaries of Navy and War rate 19-gun salutes, one wonders what they will do for the new Secretary of Defense . . . let loose an atomic bomb?

Brewster-Hughes Controversy

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

IT really makes no difference whether Senator Brewster got a free ride in Howard Hughes' airplane or whether in private conversation Brewster said this or that to Hughes. The issue is not personal. It is not between Brewster and Hughes. It not over which one is a liar. If Senator Brewster has betrayed his oath of office, he should be investigated by the senate, as the law provides and as the senator has proposed, offering to waive all immunities. But Mr. Hughes must file his charges under oath, not as press-agented stories in newspapers.

Howard Hughes pulled a clever and ingenious publicity stunt when, under attack himself, he hit out at Senator Brewster. It had all the earmarks of the professional who had Anna Held bathe in an advertised tub of milk. It was skillful public relations but it was not germane to the subject. It was a total and complete shifting from what is the public interest and concern of a high-lighted private feud.

The Real Business at Hand

The issue is simple: Some war contracts were not sound. Which were they? Why were they let? Who insisted upon them? Were they in the public interest, perhaps as an experimental project? If such contracts were not in the public interest, was there corruption and fraud—and by whom? That is the issue.

Only one accusation has been made against Senator Brewster which is important: namely, that he offered to squelch the investigation. That accusation at the moment of writing has not been made under oath, either on the witness stand or in the form of an affidavit. It is either true or untrue and that should be discovered.

The Hughes-Kaiser set up was first investigated by the Truman committee. It was allowed to die when Senator Mead of New York succeeded Senator Truman to the chairmanship of the committee in charge. When the Republicans took over the organization of the senate, Senator Owen Brewster of Maine succeeded Senator Mead. The Hughes - Kaiser investigation, however, was not initiated by Senator Brewster. It was initiated by Senator Homer Ferguson of Michigan, the most talented investigator in the senate today. Senator Ferguson was then appointed chairman of a subcommittee to go into this contract, which he has done.

The interest of the American people can only be served by the facts. It may be true that Howard Hughes is a charming and delightful gentleman, an ingenious inventor and a patriotic capitalist. All this has nothing to do with the matter in hand. This is an investigation into war contracts. It is similar to the investigation of the Garssons. There will be many more. In fact, the entire conduct of the war ought to be investigated. It has been a costly war. How much of the cost was essential to the national defense? How much was due to negligence and waste? A people who can not get an income tax cut from their government have a right to know that their money is not being wasted.

Let us call Howard Hughes, Mr. X; let us call Henry Kaiser, Mr. Y. And let us from that point on proceed with the facts without the red-herring of personalities and personal abuse. Rich men and rich firms can hire public relations counsel to abuse the public confidence, and, in my opinion, Senator Ferguson ought to make public the names of such counsel as the names of legal counsel are generally made known to the people. There would be fewer leaks of untruths, fewer tricky shenanigans if that were made a general practice.

Some Rights, Some Wrongs

At any rate, the people are entitled to the facts no matter who is involved. Many things were done during the war years which were wrong. Many of the wrongs were committed with the best of intentions in the hope of shortening the war and saving lives. Many wrongs were committed by criminals abusing the public confidence.

No man should be pilloried until the facts are on the record under oath. He who seeks to avoid testimony under oath acknowledges his lack of confidence in his own conduct. But the facts must come out—and no one should be protected in the search for facts.

Daily Bible Thought

The mightiest influence for good that humanity ever saw came out of this hill town. A baby was born there that grew to be a great man. Not a swashbuckling conqueror, but a man of ideas, who remake those who live by them and will remake the world when it accepts them in sincerity. From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Sunday, Aug. 8, 1937.

The annual picnic of officials of the Harding Area council of Boy Scouts was held at Camp John A. Owens. Dr. Frank R. Mann, president of the area, gave an informal talk and Clifford M. Howser, area camping chairman, reported on camping activity.

The marriage of Miss Clara May Uncapher and William R. Haley took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Uncapher on East Fairground street.

Mrs. Margaret A. Richards, 80, lifelong resident of Marion county, died at her home in Morral.

Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Shults of Superior street, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Clark of South Seffner avenue, Mr. and Mrs. George Bosley of Morral and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Curran of Detroit. Mrs. Curran was Miss Mary Alice Fye of Marion before her marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Floren Pletcher of near Caledonia entertained at a birthday dinner honoring a group of relatives having birthday annisaries in August.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, Aug. 8, 1927.

More than 25 tragic deaths were recorded in Ohio following the first August week-end while serious injuries totaled nearly twice the number. Automobile accidents were responsible for the majority of the fatalities, with drowning second.

George B. Knapp resigned as president of the Chamber of Commerce at a meeting of the board of directors.

According to reports in circulation in state political circles Hoke Donithen, Marion attorney, was to manage the campaign of Congressman James T. Begg of Sandusky for the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Mr. Donithen refused either to deny or confirm the rumor.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence DeLong of west of Green Camp.

Mrs. B. F. Shurz of West Church street received word that her daughter, Mrs. Emerson Schoenlaub, who was touring Europe in the interest of the interior decorating Department of the Stone-Thomas Co. of Wheeling, W. Va. had arrived in Paris and had left on Aug. 5 for London.

Politics As Usual

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—While the world comes apart at the seams, the maneuvers of domestic politics rather irrelevantly continue. One maneuver which is at least less irrelevant than most, is the virtually final decision of Postmaster General Robert Hannegan to resign as chairman of the Democratic national committee. Barring accidents, the long-rumored Hannegan resignation will be offered to the committee at a meeting which Hannegan is calling for September.

The current plan is that Hannegan will stay on for a while at the postoffice, but will eventually withdraw into private business. (His ambition is to own a baseball team, and he and his friend, Edwin Pauley, have been trying, thus far unsuccessfully, to buy one of the major league clubs.) His reason for leaving the national committee is the ill health which has plagued him for more than a year.

At first glance, all this seems innocent enough. Yet behind it, there is something more than meets the eye. And that something is an incipient revival of the ancient Democratic feud between the party's conservative southern faction and more progressive northern wing.

It is true that Hannegan's decision to retire was based on his high blood pressure and nothing else. But it is also true that the southerners have for some time wanted him out of the national committee owing to his pro-labor views. Hannegan has in the past rather angrily intimated that the only thing that could make him change his mind about laying down his burdens, would be a southern effort to force him to do so. If this develops, by the odd logic of politics, he will fight for what he does not want. It seems more likely that there will be no fight, and that he will resign as planned. And if he goes, the still more important question of his successor will remain to be settled.

Anderson Mentioned

Until a day or so ago, this question seemed to have been settled in favor of Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson. The President meant to draft Anderson from his cabinet post to head the party in the election year. But Anderson's greatest ambition is to enter the senate. The able Carl Hatch of New Mexico has decided to leave the senate at the end of this term. And Anderson will therefore now retire from the cabinet only to run for Hatch's senate seat. That leaves the field open for the succession to Hannegan. The most frequently named contenders are Judge Sherman Minton, whose New Deal senate record would please the northern Democrats, and Sam Jackson, the Indiana politico who was chairman of the 1944 convention, and is now favored by some southerners as a conservative.

The genuinely significant fact in this morass of trivia is that the President was at first inclined to put Anderson in Hannegan's shoes. He was urged for the national committee chairmanship by the most eminent of the southerners, House leader Sam Rayburn. By nature as well as record, Anderson could have been counted on not to maintain the close liaison with the labor groups on which Hannegan has always insisted.

In conjunction with the labor bill veto, such Presidential veerings hardly seem logical. The veto no doubt proceeded from the President's honest conviction as to the Taft-Hartley law, yet it was also aimed to solidify the labor groups for the Democrats. It brought back into the fold the bitterest of labor's dissidents, A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. It would seem plain folly for the President even to consider jeopardizing the labor support thus garnered for him.

The quirks of the President's character cannot be discounted, however. In principle, he is pro-labor. But in practice, he has a strong distaste for labor leaders, which is encouraged in him by such members of his circle as Secretary of the Treasury Snyder and his large, loud military aide, Major General Harry Vaughan.

To all this must be added still another factor in the President's political situation: the Democratic organizations, in most states, are suffering either from advanced hardening of the arteries, or galloping factionalism or both. By dint of a telephone call from Washington in which young Franklin Roosevelt participated, James Roosevelt's unfriendly maneuverings in California were somehow halted, yet California is still rent with strife. New York hardly contains two Democratic leaders on speakings terms. Pennsylvania is divided between the dilapidated David Lawrence of Pittsburgh and the still more dilapidated Joe Guffey. And so it goes. Under the circumstances, one would suppose Truman would want all the enthusiastic allies he could muster.

Oxygen for Steel

A new step in steel production is being taken by the Weirton Steel Corp. which has contracted with Air Products, Inc., for construction and operation of a plant to produce 400 tons of oxygen daily to be used in Weirton's open-hearth and blast furnace operations. Utilization of pure oxygen in steel manufacture has been standard process for many years but Weirton will be the first to have its oxgyen-producing plant at the furnace site.

Extraction of oxygen from the air, discovered in 1895, was brought to a high degree of efficiency during the war and now is bein gturned to the production of better steel, glass and chemicals at lower cost. Introduction of pure oxygen into the steel-making process has been called one of the most important developments in the industry in 25 years, some authorities reporting it increases efficiency 20 to 40 per cent.

Exploit in Living

"A quart of champagne . beg pardon, a quart of milk, I mean," said the housewife looking over her grocery list.

The clerk went to a vault and got a quart released through the necessary banking channels.

"And how much are eggs today?" she asked.

"I'll call the broker and see what they opened at. I heard they hit a new high with 85 bid and 88 asked," said the clerk.

"I feel like plunging," said the shopper. "What do you think of eggs at that level?"

"I'm bullish on eggs," he replied.

"For the long pull or the quick turnover?"

"Do you want your eggs for an omelet or for an investment?" asked the clerk.

"I thought I'd use a half dozen with some bacon and a half dozen with my securities," the lady replied.

"The egg is here to stay," replied the clerk sagely. "I think you would be safe in accumulating a dozen."

* * *

"I don't know what to get for lunch. I was thinking of cold cuts," said the housewife.

"Some of our most prudent customers like the way cold cuts are acting in this market," smiled the clerk.

"What is sliced ham?"

"One hundred dollars and thirty cents a pound."

"One hundred!"

"I beg pardon. I mean one dollar and thirty cents, I get so confused these days."

"Is it good?"

"The material in this ham is wonderful and you can't beat the workmanship."

* * *

"How about corned beef?"

"One dollar fifty a pound and Tiffany aint doing any better. Frankfurters are being tipped as a good thing now. Moody spoke of 'em in the manual today. The Rockefeller interests are behind 'em."

"How much?"

"Fifty five a pound."

"Ain't that high for dogs?"

"Some of our most conservative clientele like 'em just now. I hear there's a pool operating in 'em."

"Could you let me have a quotation on lamb chops?"

"Ninety eight a pound when, as and if."

"Isn't that expensive for lamb?"

"As the elder Morgan said to a lady who once asked him what it cost to eat lamb chops. 'So much that nobody who has to ask that question should order 'em'."

"What is a good steak today?"

"Our appraiser will be here on that in a few minutes. I think a dollar and a quarter a pound may be set."

"What makes steak so steep?"

"There is talk of splitting it five for one."

* * *

The lady hesitated and seemed quite worried.

"Have you any bananas?" she asked suddenly.

"Jewelry counter, down at the north end of the store," was the reply.

* * *

"Oh, well," said the housewife hopelessly, "I'll tell you what. Here's a one hundred dollar bill. Just chuck a few edible things into a paper bag for me."

The clerk eyed her sternly.

"We don't give paper bags with small purchases," he declared.

"SCHWAB pharmacy: whiskey, mix, chocolate gum, anacin, $33 50," is among the items on the Meyers' expense accounts. Probably the boys and girls were just experimenting with a new type cocktail.

What America needs most is a good five cents worth of five cents.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: Your aunt snapped at me today and I snapped back, so it is time to think about getting our minds off our troubles. We will start our vacation next week. We are going to try something different. We are going to live at the sugar camp until we are ready to come home and appreciate it. What we need is a change of scenery and there's just as much scenery at the camp as there would be a thousand miles away. Besides, I am one of the millions running out of money to support the more abundant life. There's no union looking after the take-home pay of old timers like me who must make ends meet on income from savings.

There's no inside plumbing at the camp and the well water tastes funny. It's safe, understand, but tastes funny. The place can be kept warm after a fashion with the fireplace, but is no bargain for cooking. The only good thing about the camp from the standpoint of living there is the way you can see 20 miles from the top of the knoll back to the sugar house in daytime and more stars than you can see anywhere on earth after dark. Of course, this year we'll be lucky if we see anything but mist and clouds.

Our weather needs to be taken more seriously than it is as a prime cause of complications among us mortals. Ordinarily, your aunt doesn't snap at me unless I deserve it and I don't snap back unless she deserves it. But this summer everybody's edgy. There's a school of thought that argues we are what weather makes us. Too much bad weather and too many low barometer readings bring out the beast in us. I remember reading once there are more suicides committed on gloomy days.

Some people go so far as to say history is tied up with the weather. They blame it for wars, depressions, booms, revolutions, the dark ages and so on. Could be we are getting ready to go into the dark ages again, though that would be more likely if the temperatures were unusually high, instead of low. Anyway, it is having an effect on me. One day earlier this week I thought of kicking the dog, which would be a lot more serious than snapping at your aunt because she can snap back—and nearly always does. The dog is too good-natured to snap.

Your boy—our boy—is all excited about going camping and you don't have to be very smart to figure out that both of us will get a lot of fun out of the fun he is going to have. You can keep right on sending mail to us at the same old place because I'll drive in every day to make sure things are all right here and maybe take a nap in my own bed. This may be the silliest thing we ever did, I'm not sure, but I don't see what we can lose. It won't cost us an extra cent to live at the camp until we are tired of it, and it will be just as big a change as anything else we could do.

If it rains—and it probably will—the effect won't be any worse out there than it is right here. Remember to keep smiling, simpleton. July showers will bring August flowers—funeral flowers. I've lived through worse weather, I guess, but don't know how I did it. By the way, don't know how long we'll stay at the camp, but probably not longer than 10 days, which is as long as people can go without bathing and still keep their morale.

MARION MAN TO GET ANNIVERSARY HONOR

L. V. Uncapher One of Ohio Insurance Organizers.

L. V. Uncapher of 235 South Main street, now retired, was one of the property insurance agents in the Marion community who will be given recognition for his work in helping to organize the Ohio Association of Fire Insurance agents 50 years ago, according to a news report from the association. H. M. Ault, another of the organizers, died a number of years ago.

Mr. Uncapher's picture and an account of his work as one of the founders will appear in the semi-centennial issue of the Ohio Agency Bulletin which will probably appear in September. The state convention is scheduled to be held in Toledo sometime in that month.

The purpose in forming the association 50 years ago was to provide better protection for the public. In 1897 when the association was formed, the fire loss rate was 67 per cent. Another objective of the association was establishment of the state fire marshal's office, which came into existence in 1900. In that year the fire losses dropped to 40 per cent. During the past 50 years, fire insurance rates in Ohio have been less than those in any other state.

Drivers Licenses Show Gain in Crawford Co.

BUCYRUS, Aug. 8—New car sales in Crawford county are dropping off but issuance of drivers licenses are on the upgrade, July figures indicate. Eight new cars were sold during July as compared with 89 in June, according to the certificate of title department at the courthouse.

Pointing to the growing number of drivers was the figure given by Fred Trautman, deputy registrar of motor vehicles, who said that 1,979 more drivers licenses were issued in his office in the first seven months of 1947 than were licensed during the same period last year. Trautman also said that 500 more license plates have been issued in his office this year than during the same period last year.

About four-fifths of the residents of Canada were born in the country.

Bishop A. R. Clippinger To Give Dedicatory Sermon at Remodeled Mt. Zion Church Sunday

A program of building improvement for the Oceola and Mt. Zion Evangelical United Brethren churches, of which Rev. Clayton Strawser is pastor, has been under way for some time, the culmination of the Mt. Zion congregation's efforts will be realized at a dedication service Sunday, Aug. 10. Improvements on the Oceola church are in progress under direction of a building committee composed of the church board of trustees and an advisory body of five members.

At the Mt. Zion service of dedication at 2:30 p. m. on the scheduled date, Bishop A. R. Clippinger of the Central area of the denomination will give the dedicatory address. For the morning worship service at the church at 10:30 that day, Dr. V. H. Allman, Sandusky conference superintendent, will speak. Bishop Clippinger's sermon for the dedication will be "A Beautiful Temple for a Great God."

Both churches are located in Crawford county. The Oceola church is in the village of Oceola approximately six miles west of Bucyrus, and the Mt. Zion church is about five miles southwest of Bucyrus, a short distance off the Wyandot road.

Improvements on the Mt. Zion church property were begun May 10 last year when a well was drilled. Following this, addition of two Sunday school rooms was made on the east side of the building, with balconies above them, and at the northeast corner a room 16 feet by 32 was constructed. Under the whole structure a basement was laid, including modern kitchen and modern restrooms. The kitchen was equipped with two electric ranges and electric hot water heater and water softener, and a drinking fountain was installed. Part of the basement was designed to be be used as Sunday school rooms.

Can Seat 500

Entire seating capacity of the building is approximately 500, and to provide crowds seated in other parts of the church besides the main auditorium with hearing facilities, a public address system has been set up.

IMPROVED AND ENLARGED MT. ZION CHURCH

BISHOP CLIPPINGER

Plans made for improvement on the Oceola church edifice were for laying a basement which will be used for Sunday school classes and for social events of the congregation. South wall of the basement has now been completed. The basement will include a modern kitchen and restrooms, and a modern forced air heating plant, with oil furnace, will be installed. On th eadvisory board for the construction and improvements are Clifford Wilson, Vernon Alheim, O. E. Gibson, Walter Miller and Roy Wilson.

Raising of funds for both church projects included auction sales of a wide variety of articles, merchandise and produce which were donated by individuals and by business firms for the purpose.

Organized by Circuit Rider

The Mt. Zion church was organized about 1858 by one of the early circuit riders of Sandusky conference who established more than 20 United Brethren churches in Crawford county. For several years, services were held by the Mt. Zion group in the Wilson school house. About 1867, an old building was moved to the present location of the Mt. Zion cemetery, rough board benches were installed and the building was papered with newspapers. The land was purchased from Simon Denzer. On the same site, a building was erected in 1870, with tower and bell added later. Dedication during the summer was by Bishop Jacob J. Glossbrenner with a service held in a grove of sugar maple trees just across the river. The church would not accommodate the crowd.

Incorporated in 1875

In 1875, the church was incorporated. First board of trustees was Daniel Young, C. L. Stine, J. H. Layman, J. M. Gunder and Daniel Parcher. During January, 1897, evangelistic services were under way, in charge of Rev. W. W. Sage, pastor. On Jan. 15, shortly before the hour of service, the church was discovered to be on fire and it burned to the ground.

George Stuckman immediately made a pledge toward a new building fund, and timbers were cut and lumber hauled as soon as possible in the spring. Building was started at the present site under direction of P. F. Mollencop, and a new church was dedicated Aug. 29, 1897. The land was purchased from Margaret Lantz.

The Mt. Zion church has been connected almost continuously with the Oceola circuit except for a few years when it was on the Bucyrus charge. Present trustees are Lawrence S. Heinlen, who has served nearly 30 years, Park Stuckman, Milton Harman, B. K. Hoover and R. G. Shroll.

Kenton To Be Host For 37th Division Reunion

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 8—The annual reunion of the 37th Division will be held at the V.F.W. club rooms on South Main street, Kenton, on Sunday. Guests for the occasion will include Colonel Gaul, former Company E commander, World War II, Tom Weaver, company commander, World War I, Col. Herbert Radcliffe and Colonel Brown.

Out of town guests will include Major Falkand, several other officers and enlisted men that were formerly in the 37th division. This will be the second get-together of the group since the war and some of the boys are anticipating seeing old buddies that they were across with, but have not seen since the war's end. Anyone that trained with the 37th during the war or was formerly in the 37th before the war, is extended a cordial invitation to attend the reunion.

Election of officers will be held at the reunion. Cards have been sent to various parts of the United States and a large crowd is expected to show up, with boys from all over the state of Ohio attending. Refreshments will be served and pictures taken during the various campaigns will be shown by Colonel Herb Radcliffe.

Danger Is Seen In Land Prices

Warn of Financial Ruin from Inflation in Farm Costs.

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 7 — The war inspired boom in farm real estate continues to grow despite repeated government warnings that there is danger of a collapse that would bring financial ruin to those buying on credit.

In its latest regular report on the boom, the agriculture department said farm real estate values for the country as a whole increased two per cent during the four months ended July 1.

Average values are 10 per cent above a year ago, 95 per cent above the 1935-39 pre-war average and only 5 per cent below the 1920 inflationary peak. A sharp break in the 1920 prices tossed into bankruptcy thousands of farmers who bought at inflated prices.

The latest warning on land prices was issued by a conference of farm real estate prices held here two months ago at the direction of President Truman. The Chief Executive expressed fear that a continuing land boom would bring disaster to farmers and credit institutions.

Caution Urged

The conference urged buyers to use more caution in paying inflated prices and recommended that creditors adopt tighter loan policies.

The department also reported that the volume of farm sales at inflated prices during the past year was the highest on record.

As has been its custom since early in the war, the department report said there is danger that some farmers may have difficulty in meeting mortgage payments and other fixed obligations once farm commodity prices have readjusted themselves from present abnormally high levels.

The department said sharpest increases in land values during the past four months was in the wheat and livestock producing areas, particularly range areas. A light falling off in values was reported for southeastern states. It has been in the latter area that the sharpest increases have occurred over pre-war levels.

High Priced Areas

Explaining this difference, the department said sharply increased receipts from wheat, corn, and livestock in the west central and range states are reported, while returns from fruit and truck cops in the South Atlantic states have been significanly below those of last year.

The report showed that the proportion of farm loans by commercial banks and individuals continued to increase. In 1941, for example, commercial banks made only 12 per cent of farm loans. The percentage now is 27. The percentage made by government credit agencies had dropped from 17 to 7.

Nevertheless, a large portion of farm buyers are continuing to pay cash. The percentage has been slightly more than half in each of the past three years.

FUNERAL DIRECTORS HOLD MEETING HERE

Veterans' Grave Registration Discussed by Officer.

Thirty members representing four counties were present at a dinner meeting of District No. 2, Ohio Funeral Directors association, Thursday night at Hotel Harding.

Col. Albert Barden of Columbus was the principal speaker. He is a member of the American grave registration division and is in charge of the Columbus graves registration depot. The Columbus general depot is being used as a distributing point for all bodies of armed forces veterans being returned to Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Michigan.

In his talk he discussed the registration of the graves and described the work now under way of returning many of the war dead to this country.

A film illustrating the work was shown by an assistant, Robert Begland, also of Columbus. A talk was also given by Jerry Spears, funeral director of Columbus, who is a member of the association's legislation committee.

District No. 2 includes Marion, Morrow, Crawford and Richland counties and is headed by Albert Bardsdall of Shelby. Miss Peiffer of Mansfield is secretary. In charge of arrangements for yesterday's meeting was Harold Denzer of the Schaffner-Denzer funeral home on East Center street.

Woman's Heart Is "Peeled" by Surgery

By International News Service

PITTSBURGH — Mrs. Rena Skillings is able to wear those red shoes and play with her little boy, after all.

A bit of delicate surgery on her heart, in which the heart walls were literally "peeled away" has put her back on her feet.

Mrs. Skillings was suffering from a heart condition, the result of rheumatic fever. Her feet and legs were swollen to such an extent she couldn't walk. Her neck and chest were swollen.

But physicians coud find no heart "murmur," no heart leakage such as is a common aftermath of rheumatic fever.

Finally the condition was diagnosed as pericarditis — hardening and thickening of the two-layer sheath around the heart. The walls were slowly crushing the heart. It couldn't pump the blood fast enough and there was a "backing up" of the life fluid in the legs, chest and neck.

When other treatment failed to bring response, a surgeon used his knife. He removed portions of four ribs to lay bare the struggling heart. Then he pared away the heart sheath to actually "release" the organ from its tightening prison.

Improvement began immediately. Within a few days the swellings were noticeably reduced. Within two months, her condition was almost normal, and she returned to her home.

Back After 68 Years, Seeks Relatives Here

A search for relatives in Marion, from where he moved approximately 68 years ago, was being made today by W. E. Ruff of Ness City, Kan., who was here in company with his son, Carol C. Ruff of Pittsburgh, Pa. When a boy, the elder Ruff lived on a farm near Marion. Uncles who resided in this community were Henry, John and Jacob Ruff, and possibility that some of their descendants are still living here was being investigated by the two men. He hopes, Mr. Ruff stated on a visit to The Star office, that if any of the families of these men are here that they will get in touch with him. He and his son, who are on a vacation trip, plan to resume the trip to the son's home tomorrow. It is the older man's first return to Marion since he left. He is a native of Auglaize county. The son is an employe of Kaufmann's department store in Pittsburgh. Any members of the family here may get in touch with him at his home address, which he listed as 2916 Middletown Road, Pittsburgh.

Picnic at Tennis Courts Set for Next Thursday.

The third weekly alumni dance at the Y. M. C. A. of the summer was held in club Co-Ed rooms Thursday night. Attendance, less than last week's, was approximately 75.

Announcement of plans for an alumni picnic next Thursday night at the Y tennis courts on Vernon Heights boulevard was made. Under the current setup the Y is designating Thursday night as alumni night for Marion youth and such activities as dances and picnics will be held regularly.

BALK GIVES CUBS 2 - 1 VICTORY IN ELEVENTH INNING

Giants' Hurler Hands Game To Marion After Tight Pitching Duel.

Special to The Star

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 8—Tony West committed a balk in the top half of the eleventh inning here last night to hand the Marion Cubs a 2-1 Ohio State league victory in front of 650 sweltering fans at Municipal stadium.

West and the Cubs' Jim Sabens were hooked up in a tight mound duel for 10 innings with honors about even. Sabens registered 11 strikeouts, while West whiffed nine.

With two away in the fatal eleventh, Nelson Burbrink walked and raced to third on Shuford's single to right. Shuford broke for second, West balked and Umpire Butch Heinlen waved Burbrink in from third.

The Cubs tallied in the second on singles by Burbrink and Bobzean and a long outfield fly by Forbes. The Giants knotted the count in the eighth on Bill Metral's walk, a wild pitch, an outfield fly and Sabens' error.

Springfield loaded the bases with none out in the ninth but Sabens forced Metral to hit to third and a runner was nipped at the plate, retired Bob Davis on a harmless fly to short center and forced Ben Haddix to ground out to second.

Cubs Lose Services Of Two Pitchers

The Marion Cubs' pitching staff was cut down to seven yesterday when Gasper Pivorunas was released outright and Bill Rosin was placed on the suspended list. Rosin returned to his home in Birmingham, Mich., to await the healing of his broken finger. He fractured the index finger on his pitching hand a week ago when he bunted the ball for a sacrifice against Richmond. At the time of the injury Rosin was the bell cow of the Cub staff with 10 victories and four defeats. The big right-hander will be out of the lineup about three weeks.

Pivorunas joined the club early in June from Iola, Kan., of the K-O-M league. He was used only sparingly, winning two while losing a like number. His home is in Chicago.

Kansas City Has Grip on Pennant

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Blues had the 1947 American association pennant all but nailed to the flagpole in Ruppert stadium today after virtually eliminating Louisville from a repeat championship by sweeping a doubleheader from the second-place Colonels last night, 8 to 0, and 12 to 2.

The twin victory gave the Blues their sixth straight triumph, including four in a row over Louisville, and a whopping seven game advantage over the defending champions.

In a double-header at Indianapolis, Milwaukee took a firmer grip on third place by downing the fourth-place Indians twice, 4 to 1, and 6 to 3. In single encounters, Minneapolis defeated Toledo, 7 to 5, and St. Paul edged out Columbus 10 to 9.

Kansas City's Bill Wight won his 12th pitching victory of the year in blanking Louisville, 8 to 0, in the seven-inning opener. He allowed only four hits. In the nightcap Tommy Byrne allowed only two hits.

Ohio State Loop Takes on Circus Day Atmosphere

By The Associated Press

They should have played the Ohio State league under a tent last night.

Over in Dayton, where the Indians clouted Lima, 5 to 3, a crowd of 4,471 trotted out to the ball park, reported to be a league attendance record. It was Shriners' night.

Billy Brady, the right fielder picked up by the Richmond Roses 10 games back, pounded five runs across the plate like a carpenter driving nails—with two doubles, a triple and a single in four trips to the plate. These and 10 other blows by Bill's Richmond teammates, produced a 16 to 5 blasting of hapless Newark.

Over in Muncie, Ind., Zanesville nailed the home town boys, 8 to 3, but they had to count all their runs in the last three innings to get the job done.

Dayton's margin of victory came in a weird eighth. It began with a long fly off the bat of Lou Worley with one run in and a mate on base.

Outfielders Jack Maisch and Tim Grimes of Lima both rooted it for the ball, collided, knocked each other out and the ball rolled for an in-the-park home run.

Fox and Strickland Last in Battle Royal

Billy Fox of Cleveland and George Strickland, Ohio State student, were the last two remaining in the battle-royal at the Armory last night. They met in the maingo Fox taking the first and third falls.

Sammy Kohen and Frankie Talber met in the semi-final, by virtue of their showings in the battle-royal, the match ending in a draw after each grappler had taken a fall.

Rufus Jones was the first man out of the five man free-for-all.

A 10-minute preliminary between Don Grove and Herb Williams also went to no decision.

CINCINNATI HEADS TOWARD ANOTHER JR. LEGION CROWN

Only Unbeaten Team Just Two Games Away from Championship.

By The Associated Press

DELAWARE, O., Aug. 8—Cincinnati Bentley Post, after sweating out a long line of teams who wanted to keep them from retaining their Ohio American Legion Junior baseball championship, neared the pay window today.

Only two games stood between them and the 1947 title.

Cincinnati meets Cuyahoga Falls at 1 p. m. If Bentley wins, the River City team then would meet the winner of the 9 a. m. game between Columbus and Cleveland.

What may well be the championship contest in this double-elimination affair is scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m.

Only the champions remain unbeaten Columbus, Cleveland and Cuyahoga Falls each have received one shellacking — and one more spells out.

Columbus Beaten

Columbus took a pasting from Cincinnati 14 to 7 yesterday afternoon after Bentley's Ed Garrett handcuffed the losers with a choice assortment of strike-out pitches.

In other games, Cleveland trounced Brookville, 6 and 2, and Cuyahoga Falls downed Lima, 9 to 4. Both losers were eliminated.

Garrett mowed down 15 Columbus St. Charles by the three-strike route in the six and one-third innings he toiled. He went to the bench after that for a rest. Bentley's probable starting choice in the finals.

Bob Andres, another Cincinnati tosser of decided talent, is the probable starter for the 1 p. m. contest.

While Garrett was slipping that high hard one past the Columbus hitters, Cincinnati batsmen stowed the ball game in the bat bag with eight runs in the first two frames.

Pitcher Also Hits

Pitcher Joe Ruggetts, who does his elbowing for Cleveland, pounded out a double and a triple in four trips to the plate, besides whiffing seven. His double launched a three-run rally in the sixth that brought the Clevelanders from behind.

The heavy-hitting Cuyahoga Falls outfit also had to come from behind. Then, with the score knotted at 3-all, Falls left fielder Dave Goulding slammed a home run with three on base. That was it.

Yesterday's line scores:

BLACKWELL OUT AFTER NEW STRING

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Aug. 8 — Ewell Blackwell, Cincinnati's ace right-hander, takes the mound against the Cubs here today in hopes of getting "another string" started.

Today's outing against the Cubs will be Blackwell's third try for victory No. 19. Hank Wyse opposes him.

The St. Louis Cardinals used the Reds as a stepping stone yesterday to gain a full game on the front-running but faltering Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Cards, playing like the team that edged past Brooklyn last year to win the pennant, collected 16 hits for a 9-2 triumph. It was their seventh straight victory and second win over Cincinnati in as many days.

Two first-line Cincinnati players—shortstop Eddie Miller and outfielder Frankie Baumholtz—were injured in the sixth inning of the game as they collided head on while chasing a Texas leaguer from the bat of catcher Del Rice.

Baumholtz suffered a slight concussion and three stitches were required to close a gash in Miller's chin.

TOURNEY GAMES RESET AS RAIN INTERFERES

Marion Smitty's Rescheduled To Play Tonight.

MT. VERNON, Aug. 8 — The start of quarter-final sessions in the district softball tournament being held at Riverside Park here was rained out last night.

Tonight Smitty's Grill of Marion will make its second start of the tourney against Stone's Grill of Mt. Vernon, a team Smitty's have beaten twice this season, at 7:30 p. m.

Tourney Manager Hal Clawson was busy juggling the matches this morning, but did not have a second game definitely lined up.

The Gorman Rupp of Mansfield-Strine's Gulf of Ashland, tilt is scheduled as the second tonight, but the billing may be given to a game that was rained out last night.

Hogan and Keiser After Nelson Mark In Spokane Open

By The Associated Press

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 8—Tall Herman Keiser of Akron, O., and little Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., already five under par, moved into the second round of the $10,000 Esmeralda open golf tournament today with their sights set on the 1945 course record chalked up by Byron Nelson. Hogan was fighting a touch of influenza.

Nelson that year butchered 22 strokes off the Indian Canyon route's par for 72 holes, but the Keiser-Hogan assignment is tougher. Par for the 18 holes when Nelson played it was 72. Now it's 70.

Keiser and Blazin' Ben played the first circuit of the four-day tourney yesterday as though they owned the course. Hogan was out in 31 and back in 34 and Keiser but together a 33-32 for his 65.

Eighteen of the 125 entrants go into the second round at even par or better. Right behind the leaders with 34-32—66 was Ed Furgol of Pontiac, Mich.

Bill Nary of Phoenix, Ellsworth Vines of Los Angeles and Ted Longworth of Portland, Ore., were on the board with 67's and John Palmer, Badin, N. C., had 68. Five men were in the 96's and there were six in the even-par bracket.

Ken Storey of Spokane led the amateurs with 69, three strokes better than Western Amateur Champ Bud Ward.

National Open Champion Lew Worsham of Oakmont, Pa., equalled Hogan's 31 on the out nine, but stumbled on the back half as the back half as the news got around and the gallery closed in, taking a 39. Also out in 31 and back in 39 was George Payton of Hampton, Va.

City Softball Games Rained Out; Give Rulings

All city softball games scheduled last night were rained out. Scheduled meets were Commercial Steel against General Excavator, Ohio Associated Telephone against Quaker Oats, and Pollak against Osgood.

The city softball commission met recently and handed down rulings on two protested games. St. Mary 1 protested the team did not have ample notice about a game with Evangelical United Brethren, which was declared a forfeit when the former did not show up. The protest was allowed. It will now have to be re-scheduled.

A protest by Ohio Public Service against McMillen feeds was not allowed by the commission. O.P.S. charged McMillen pitcher Hillis with using an illegal delivery when the teams met in a second round game which O.P.S. lost.

Bums Stagger Home, Hope For End of Losing Streak

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Brooklyn's weary Dodgers, their 10-game lead sliced to [illegible] a series of disasters in Chicago and Boston, stagger back to [illegible] cooking tonight, banking on a .700 winning record at Ebbets [illegible] to halt their toboggan slide.

World series talk has evaporated and the question of the day is Flatbush is "what's the matter the Dodgers?" The fellow who knows the answer could command a princely salary from President Branch Rickey.

While the Dodgers have been losing six of their last seven since sweeping three at St. Louis, the world champs have racked up seven straight wins, to cut full games of the Dooger lead.

Red Barrett, a choice target for Leo Durocher's barbs in other years, tripped the Dodgers all by himself yesterday, throwing a three-hitter and doubling to start the Braves' winning rally, 3-1. The Dodgers Harry Taylor came up with a well pitched ball game but not good enough.

The Giants took another fall out of the injury-riddled Phillies for a third straight 5-2 win. For the second day in a row there were no Giant homers.

Enos Slaughter led the blazing Cardinals with a pair of singles and a triple, driving in three runs in the 9-2 romp over Cincinnati's Kent Peterson.

Kirby Higbe lived up to his high price tag by hurling a seven-hit 3-0 shutout for Pittsburgh against Chicago. It was the first shutout of the year and a ninth victory for "Old Hig." Ralph Kiner's twenty-seventh homer in the second inning started Hank Borowy on the way to his ninth loss.

The Boston Red Sox, who open a last ditch stand tonight against the New York Yankees whom they trail by 13½ games, warmed up with a 12-2 slaughter of Washington. While Denny Galehouse retired the first 17 men to face him in a neat six-hit effort, the Sox lambasted Early Wynn, Marino Pieretti and Scott Cary for 15 hits including Teddy Williams' twenty-fifth homer.

Only 698 cash customers braved the 96-degree heat to watch the St. Louis Browns lose another one, this time to Chicago, 8-4. Red Ruffing received credit for his two hundred and seventy-second big league triumph.

A scheduled Cleveland at Detroit game was rained out and the other clubs were not scheduled.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Batting, Enos Slaughter, Cardinals—Drove in three St. Louis runs with two singles and a triple in 9-2 romp over Cincinnati.

Pitching, Red Barrett, Braves—Held league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers to three hits and scored the breaking run of 3-1 win after doubling in the sixth inning.

Victory Song Turns In Fastest Mile

By The Associated Press

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 8—The fastest mile of the year for trotting colts, a blistering 1:59 [illegible] was on the books today with the close of the four-day grand circuit meeting and Hambletonian week at Good Time track.

The mark—two-fifth of a second better than Hoot Mon's [illegible] ning mile in the Hambleto[illegible] was turned in by Victory [illegible] yesterday in winning the $5[illegible] trotting derby in straight heats. Victory Song is a Castleton Farm stablemate of Hoot Mon, and sire Palin, who handled the reins in the Hambletonian victory [illegible] driving Victory Song yesterday.

WIND GIVES ASSIST IN RIFLE CONTEST

By The Associated Press

CAMP PERRY, O., Aug. 8 — Gentle cross-breezes were credited with an assist today by Gene Moore of Washington, D. C., helping him to the 1947 National rifle championship.

The 39-year-old repeating rifleman, who totalled 3,194 of a possible 3,200 in eight matches for a new high in National Rifle Association tournaments, said, "All I was asking for during the whole match was a little wind every now and then. I've spent a lot of time figuring out what a .22 caliber target bullet will do in the wind and I think I have an advantage when the air stirs a little."

For the first two days of firing the 798 shooters of the nation here wasn't a breath of wind, and all along Moore trailed Robert E. Perkins of Fresno, Calif.

But yesterday, as the riflemen lined up for the final 100-yard 40-shot test, the breezes came and with them a 398 for Moore.

Perkins, who hoped to be the first westerner to take the title, fired 392 and dropped into a tie for fifth place.

Veteran Dave Carlson, the 1940 champion from New Haven, Conn., came in behind Moore with 3191, with Charlie Whipple, Greensburg, Pa., and Donald Mercer, Akron, O., tied for third with 3190 totals.

Adelaide McCord of Sewickley, Pa., three-time national womens' champ, made it four and a new national record when she took the title again with a total of 3180 of a possible 3200.

Top Columbus Teams To Play in Prospect

Arrangements have been made to bring a pair of highly rated Columbus softball teams into Prospect park tonight, by the Prospect softball commission.

The teams, who will play the feature game under the lights at about 9:15 p. m., are Veteran's Administration and Williams-McNabb Morticians, an all-Negro team.

The preliminary game at 8:15 p. m. will be between Prospect American Legion and McMillen Feeds of Marion.

HIESTAND WINS SHOOTOFF

By The Associated Press

YORKLYN, Del., Aug. 8—Joseph F. Hiestand, Hillsboro, O., marksman, won the Brandywine classic in a four-way shootoff and then smashed 97 out of 100 targets to take the Red Clay classic at the Yorklyn gun club traps. Hiestand took the shootoff with a run of 75 straight yesterday after being tied earlier in the Brandywine by Mercer Tenneville, Shreveport, La., and Charles Osborn and J. G. Michael, Aberdeen, Md., at 149 out of 150 targets.

AUSSIES WINNING

By The Associated Press

MONTREAL, Aug. 8—All the Australian Davis Cup team needed was a doubles match victory today to eliminate the Canadians and advance one step nearer a meeting with the defending champion United States team in the cup final. The Aussies swept the two opening day singles matches against the Canadian netmen yesterday. Dinny Pails defeated Henri Kochon 6-1, 6-4, 6-2 while Geoff Brown topped Bredan Macken 6-4, 6-4, 6-1.

Free Lance Writer Learns Editor's Angle

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — For years Frank K. Kelly, a successful free lance, cursed the idiosyncrasies of editors.

Now he is an editor himself, and finds it a bit disturbing to be issuing rejection slips to other writers.

As a matter of fact he avoids printed rejection slips whenever possible, remembering the bitterness of all writers toward turndowns of this kind.

Hal Boyle

"I have had so many myself," he said pleasantly, "they got to seem like old buddies."

Now 33, Kelly began writing at the age of twelve. At sixteen he had overriden his first wave of rejections to become a regular contributor to science and fiction magazines. Since then, between tours of duty as a newspaperman, a Nieman fellow at Harvard university and wartime sergeant overseas, he has sold some sixty stories and articles to magazines as diverse as "Amazing Stories" and "The Atlantic Monthly." One tale was selected by the late Edward O'Brien for inclusion in his annual anthology of best short stories.

Recently Kelly became manuscript editor himself for a well known weekly magazine and learned the other side of the picture. He conscientiously reads at least 15 to 20 manuscripts a day and has become something of a problem to the stenographers in his office.

"They say I write too many personal letters to writers," he said. "One girl brought be out a stack of printed rejections forms starting 'the editors wish to thank you for submitting your manuscript, but . . .'

"Well, I use them once in a while, but I hate to do it. That hurts a writer most of all—to get a printed rejection slip attached by a paper clip to his labor of love."

Nearly All Go Back

So Kelly in most cases tries to give a personal assessment of each manuscript he finds it necessary to return—which is at least 99 out of every 100 submitted.

"The result is the writers bombard me with their other manuscripts by return airmail, special delivery," he laughed. "But that's all right. I did it myself."

Kelly said that as a contributor himself he always thought it was a legend that editors were in constant search of new talent, but he has found it to be true. The "name" writers get turned down often just as do the "unknowns."

He said that all manuscripts get a thorough reading unless the editor can tell at a glance that they are hopelessly unadapted to their needs.

"I had the suspicion deep in the heart of every writer that editors don't read his stuff with the loving care he expects," he smiled. "Well, it just isn't so. Editors really are quite desperately hunting for new talent, and nothing gives them a greater thrill than finding it."

Most writers, Kelly said, defeat themselves.

Common Error

"The mistakes they make most often is in not taking sufficient care to see that the impact of their material is as sharp as possible—so that it will compel an editor to keep on reading. He naturally feels that if he doesn't want to read further the people who buy the magazine won't either."

I asked Kelly whether his experience as an editor had helped him as a writer.

"Yes," he said, "I learned that editors have to look coldly on leisurely discoursive writing and welcome, most of all, a fast sparkling style. The editor, like the reader, is a busy impatient man. He wants to be pulled at once into the main body of the narrative without any preliminaries or philosophic observations."

But Kelly said it was foolish for any competent writer to be discouraged by rejection slips. One of his own stories, "turned down by practically every magazine in America," promptly brought $200 when submitted to a Canadian editor.

"One writer to whom I wrote a personal letter of rejection told me it gave him courage to go on," he said. "But I believe writing is an incurable itch. No editor can destroy a real writer's passion for putting black marks on white paper. And the market is always wide open for fresh stuff."

Court Clerk Presides At His Own Eviction

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Aug. 8—Deputy clerk Aloysius Kelly indexed another home eviction case in municipal court yesterday and paused to comment:

"I've scheduled hundreds of eviction cases here in the past five years and I know from personal experience what a shock it is * * *."

His voice trailed away as his brother, Chief Bailiff Frank T. Kelly sadly handed Aloysius the writ of eviction on the case he had just indexed.

Aloysius had just presided at his own eviction.

White House Estimate Close on U. S. Spending

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—President Truman's entry into the battle of the budget bolstered evidence today that federal spending this fiscal year—as the administration adds it up—will be close to the original White House estimate of $37,500,000,000.

Taking an indirect poke at claims of big savings by the Republican congress, Mr. Truman announced that he has ordered a "detailed and exhaustive" study of federal outlays and income.

When this is completed he will issue a review and analysis of "all the facts," presumably in the customary mid-August budget review.

Administration budget officials said that despite numerous cuts in appropriations the government probably will spend fairly close to the amount estimated by Mr. Truman in his budget message last January.

Toledo Union Backs Farm-Labor Co-ops

By The Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., Aug. 8—The idea of a farm-labor cooperative in Ohio drew favorable reaction last night from the Toledo Central Labor union of the AFL.

CLU adopted a resolution asking the Ohio Federation of Labor to supply sufficient funds to hire an "impartial" farm expert to study for a year cooperative possibilities.

The action followed statements favoring cooperatives by Author Louis Bromfield, Ohio Farm Bureau President Murray Lincoln and others at a farm-labor clinic on the Bromfield farm last Tuesday.

Plans are under way for a Baptist Youth camp for Junior Baptist Youth Fellowship members, junior high school age, for the Marion Baptist association, Rev. Lester R. Kidd of Green Camp announced today. He is director of the association's Youth Fellowship organization. Fifteen churches of the denomination, comprising the association, will take part in the camp, which will be held at the Boy Scout camp south of Marion at Owens. Date set is Aug. 29-31, with opening scheduled for 3 p. m. Friday, first day of the weekend camp. Closing vesper service Sunday will be at 3 o'clock. Pastors of the churches of the association will be the instructors, teachers and recreational leaders for the three days. Details of arrangements are being completed by officers of the Youth Fellowship of the association of which Miss Ruth Dreyer of near Green Camp is president.

BUCYRUS BOOSTS PAY FOR CITY HOSPITAL EMPLOYES

Room Rates Up $1 to Meet Increase.

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Ag. 8—Pay increases for Bucyrus City hospital employes and boosts in room rates to help meet the increases were authorized by city council Tuesday night. Pay increases came after council was advised that resignations could be expected unless salaries were raised.

Pay increases ranged from $20 to $35 a month for nurses and in varying amounts for other employes at the hospital. The increase brings the total in the annual hospital appropriations to $121,620, a boost of $12,000 a year. The raises become effective September 1. Salaries now range from $1,680 for undergraduate nurses to $2,700, the superintendent's salary.

Room rates were increased $1 per day, the second such increases within the last three years. New rates will range from $11 for a private room with lavatory to $6 for ward patients. Laboratory fees will remain unchanged. Salaries of nurses aides under the new schedule will range from $840 to $1,140.

In addition to the hospital salary and rate legislation, council also discussed the possibility of adopting an ordinance making legal the charging of a municipal admissions tax to replace the state tax which will expire October 1. Council was advised that the state tax now nets the city approximately $4,000 from the two theaters here.

FARM AND FOOD PRICES SURVEYED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 8—Here is the way the agriculture department expects prices and supplies of major farm and food products to stack up during the next few months:

Meat and livestock—a seasonal decline expected in fall, but the amount will be "only moderate" if consumer incomes stay high.

Feed grains—the weather remains important to price prospects for corn and other feed grains. If it's favorable through the remainder of the growing season, prices probably will decline this fall and winter, but may average higher than last year.

Dairy products—further increases expected during fall and winter, But they are unlikely to reach levels of a year ago after ceilings were removed.

Eggs—a less-than-usual increase expected this fall.

Wheat—prospects for a small corn crop are tending to strengthen prices despite record wheat crop.

Fats and oils—larger production forecast.

Fruits and vegetables—growers' fruit prices this summer expected to continue below last year. Fruit production will be larger, a more rapid decline than usual is expected in prices of most commercial truck crops grown for the fresh market this summer. Potato prices will average higher than last year for the next few months.

RAIDS RACE NEWS

By The Associated Press

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

GALION, Aug. 8—Of interest here is the announcement of the marriage of Ethel Bruce, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bruce of Tiro, former Galion residents, and Forest Curren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Curren of Ashley, June 21 at Greenup, Ky. The wedding was announced last Sunday at a dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Wright of Tiro, grandparents of the bride.

STOCKS TILT LOWER IN TODAY'S TRADING

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 8 — Stocks, with scattered exceptions, tilted downward in today's market, amusements hitting lows for the year and activity broadening a bit.

There was the usual trimming of accounts for week-end protection. Business doubts, in addition to the foreign economic and political picture, inspired some liquidation.

Declines of fractions to a point or more held a wide majority near the fourth hour.

At bottoms for 1947 were Loew's, Twentieth Century-Fox, Universal Pictures, International Nickel and Seiberling Rubber (following an omitted dividend). Backward were Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Chesapeake & Ohio, U. S. Steel, Youngstown Sheet, Goodrich, Montgomery Ward, Kennecott, Westinghouse, Du-Pont, Allied Chemical, Owens-Illinois, Texas Co. (on a proposal for increasing the common stock), Standard Oil (NJ) and U. S. Gypsum.

Extra disbursements lifted S. H. Kress and Acme Steel. Resistant were Koppers Co. (on a big building contract for Crucible Steel), Frisco railroad preferred (at a new high on further hopes of a merger with Gulf Mobile & Ohio), American Telephone and Schenley.

Dunkirk Couple Mark Diamond Anniversary

Special to The Star

KENTON, Aug. 8—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rinehart observed their 60th wedding anniversary at their Dunkirk home yesterday. They have lived in the same house for 52 years.

The couple were married in Leipsic, O. on Aug. 7, 1887 at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Clarence Funkey. The honeymoon consisted of a horse and buggy drive to Findlay where they were dinner guests of Mr. Rinehart's brother. They returned to Leipsic and attended church in the evening.

Mrs. Rinehart, 78, is the former Mary Catherine Siler, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Warren Siler, Leipsic. Perhaps one of her most fascinating hobbies has been her diary which has been kept for 61 years, one year before her marriage. Mrs. Rinehart has made entries faithfully until a few weeks ago when failing eyesight forced her to enlist the aid of her daughter.

Mr. Rinehart's hobby is gardening. He owned and managed the Rinehart and Conrad minstrel show, a troop that carried about 25 people and played stands at open houses in northwest Ohio at one time. He was later employed at lumber yards in Oakdale, Bucyrus and Kenton. He is 79. Mr. and Mrs. Rinehart have one daughter, Mrs. Ray Gilmore, Ada; a grandson, Ben Gilmore, Dayton, and one great-grandson, Phil Gilmore, Ada.

Stanley C. Speer In Marion City Hospital

Stanley C. Speer of about five miles west of Prospect, co-publisher of the Erie Dispatch Herald in Erie, Pa., and former general manager of the Toledo Blade, is receiving treatment in City hospital for an infection in his left arm caused by contact with poison ivy.

Mr. Speer is owner of the Dor-el Kennels near Prospect.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

"YOU see, Phil," I went on hurriedly, for I wanted to give Mary's father-in-law a chance to think out some plausible and dignity-preserving reason for granting my request—something I was sure he was avidly anxious to do—"I haven't been engaged with Mary this morning as I have been before, and I am perfectly free from now on I can see you now, or at any moment from now on, at your own convenience"

"Does this mean that Mary is much better?" he asked.

"As far as we can tell, it does," I hedged "Katharine is having perfect rest quietly now, after her breakfast with Noel, which delighted her greatly, but also, of course excited her. But neither of us think that it did her any harm. We think,, instead, that the experience was beneficial."

I was talking against time, and wondered if Phil's keen perceptions saw through my ruse But his is a 'one track mind," and my words gave him a chance to get on that track.

"Why couldn't I see Mary right away then?" he asked

"For one reason, because she is asleep," I said, "and I am sure Mrs Bickett would not consent to have her awakened"

'Oh of course I would not think of asking that!" he exclaimed in properly horrified tones

The Second Reason

'And the second reason, Phil," I went on firmly, "is that I simply must see you and explain certain things to you before you see Mary I cannot discuss the matter over the telephone, as you will readily see when you come down. But it is really urgent that I see you before you see Mary"

He was silent for fully two seconds, while my mental barometer plunked downward Then it shot upward again as he put a question

'Did you say you could see me at any time from now on?" he asked.

"Yes I am free for the day," I told him

"Then I can arrange my schedule to be down in ten minutes," he said "Will that suit you?"

'Perfectly," I told him, glad that he could not see my wide smile I knew very well that he could have started down to my apartment the next second after hanging up the telephone, but that would not have been compatable with the dignity which is supposed to hedge a great man

2 LAST FRI LOVE

"Au revoir, then" he said, and hung up his receiver

As I hung up my own, I tried to marshall the things I had to tell Philip Venitzen, and wondered miserably as I sat down in the nearest chair if I would be able to map out a good case for Mary

His knock sounded on the door before I had brought my courage up to the sticking point, but I let no hint of my feeling appear in my face as I opened the door

'Come in, Phil" I said cordially "Take this chair over here"

I gestured toward the chair, and he slipped his hand beneath my elbow

"Where are you going to sit?" he inquired, and when I had indicated my chair, opposite the one I had chosen for him, he put me into it with meticulous courtesy

"How is Mary now?" he asked

"Still sleeping, I suppose," I told him "If not, she is resting quietly in bed at Mrs Bickett's orders I have not gone back into the bedroom since I telephoned you, because I did not wish to disturb her But I really think she is distinctly better, much better than we had dared to hope"

I heard my voice going on and on, and was miserably conscious that I was almost babbling in my attempt to put off the painful moment of revelation

Then I took myself in hand and faced Phil resolutely

"I am going to tell you now the real fear which has made Mary so desperate," I said, and from which she was released only this morning"

"Released? By whom, pray?" he asked, thoroughly bewildered, and there was a hint of anger in his voice I decided that it wouldn't do any harm to mystify him a bit more

"By her aunt, Harriet Braithwaite, in Detroit, whose word in the matter was the only one Mary would accept," I told him
